A WORD FROM THE PRESIDENT

The Thirty-second Conclave was an experience I will never forget. With the help of a lot of dedicated souls and a few heaven-sent miracles, everything went smoothly. We spent most of the year planning the event, and I must say that it was worth the time. Even our bribe to the weatherman paid off. It was the warmest and the driest Conclave of my four.

My congradulations to Arkansas for once again putting forth an excellent effort. This is getting to be a habit with you folks! Congradulations to LSU for winning the Sportsmanship Award and to all the winners - especially the new record holders.

I hope everyone had as much fun as we did. You were a great bunch of people. I'm glad that the host club doesn't vote for the Sportsmanship Award; it would be a tough decision.

Good luck to Mississippi State. They are already planning, and I am sure they will do a wonderful job.

Rebecca Baldwin,
ASFC President, 1989

COMMENTS FROM THE FORESTRY CLUB ADVISOR

From a Forestry Club Advisors point of view, a conclave is a mixed bag of both fear and joy. First, there is the problem of planning the logistics of feeding, housing, and entertaining some 300 forestry students and coordinating 22 events. This is a big job, and it causes the advisor to worry that the club officers will not delegate authority. After all, it is a lot easier to do it yourself, isn't it? Yet, if they fail to delegate, they will have sleepless nights, the fun and anticipation of planning for the event will wear thin or turn sour, and their grades will suffer. Next, there is the concern about accidents arising from competition and otherwise and liability arising from drinking in excess. This concern is real and of no small matter. Then comes the details. Details! DETAILS!!! And of course we wait till the last week to do 90 percent of the work.

On the other hand, a conclave is not solely concerned with planning and worry about accidents, liability, and details. Rather, its also about the joy of seeing students putting their act together in bringing off a successful Conclave. It's about seeing young people preserving their heritage through the thrill of wholesome competition. It's about the swapping of T-shirts, caps and stories, and eating good food -- and plenty of it! It's about having free time for shooting-the-breeze, strumming a guitar, and singing familiar songs. And most important, it's about expanding one's horizons by traveling to different parts of the country, in seeing unfamiliar places , and making new friends. Yes, putting on a conclave is a mixed bag of work, worry, and joy. But then, nothing worthwhile is acheived without effort.

We sent some of you home with plaques that symbolize your knowledge and skill of forestry. But, in my book, each and everyone of you were winners for your participation in carrying out the traditions of a proud profession through these technical and physical events. The future of forestry is indeed in good hands.

I wish to thank Rebecca Baldwin and staff, The Clemson Forestry Club, for their efforts in putting together this 32nd Annual ASFC Conclave. They couldn't have done it without the able advice and wise council of Mr. Clemson Forestry Club himself -- Dr. Bill Shain. Bill has now participated in the past 29 Conclaves in a row! That must be some kind of record!! That kind of experience has been invaluable to us. It has been a honor and privilege to have hosted this conclave, you were such fine guest. We hope that we made you feel welcome here, that you enjoyed your stay with us, and that this Conclave has been a memorable one for you.

ARKANSAS

The 1988 fall semester began a new era for the University of Arkansas at Monticello Forestry Club. The quality of new members and the changing attitudes of the club has sparked this new era. We feel our pride and dominating spirit will continue to propel our club in new and better directions.

Our 1989 Spring Field Day Competition was a great success. Freindly competition and good weather were factors contributing to this success.

Work projects, such as the Equipment Show, seedling plantings, and a basal spraying, allowed funding for our Conclave trip and established a certificate of deposit for use in the 1996 Arkansas-hosted Conclave.

We would like to thank Clemson for hosting the 1989 Conclave and wish the best of luck to all the clubs.

 First Place Winner

AUBURN

The Auburn Forestry Club has had a busy year preparing for Conclave. Our major fund raisers included firewood, hat, and t-shirt sales; these activities increase our budget and help provide many extra curricular activities.

We extend our best wishes and prayers to Mississippi State; we look forward to seeing you all next year! Good Luck! War Eagle!!

CLEMSON

The Clemson University Forestry Club would like to extend our gratitude to all of the ASFC schools for their cooperation during Conclave. We would like thank the faculty and staf of the Clemson Outdoor Lab and the Clemson Forestry Department for their help with Conclave. Special thanks to Dr. Vernon Robinson, Dr. Bill Shain,and Steve Perry; we couldn't have done it without your assistance.

The Clemson Forestry Club began its year with a beach party at the start of the fall semester. The club also spent the fall cutting and delivering firewood, and selling Christmas trees in our lots over Christmas break. We also operated a corndog stand during the Clemson homecoming festivities.

The spring semester saw the Club preparing for and, when there was time, practicing for Conclave. In our spare time, we planted trees for the department and travelled to Athens for the Clemson-Georgia practice conclave. Following Conclave we will have our annual Xi Sigma Pi/Forestry Club banquet and a Forestry Department barbeque and softball game. We look forward to seeing everybody at Mississippi State next year.

FLORIDA

The University of Florida Forestry Club has been very successful in raising funds for our trip to Conclave at Clemson. Activities such as pulpwood cut, a homecoming alumni barbeque in conjunction with the Wildlife Society, and Christmas tree sales provided income for the club. The club also sold caps, shirts, and coffee mugs. A sand pine Christmas tree plantation is now being maintained for future income.

In preparation for Conclave events, the club participated in the Florida Forestry Festival and held a combination Field Day/"Beast Feast" with the Wildlife Society. During the Field Day, contestants were selected to represent the club at Conclave.

In addition, the club also did volunteer work. We participated in the Lake Oklawaha Clean-Up, provided TSI work at the Ocala National forest in return for Christmas trees, and planted slash pine for the Osceola National Forest.

GEORGIA

Conclave is a big event every year that we prepare for by holding Field Days within the club and with Clemson. Our club works along with other clubs at the University, such as Agriculture and Home economics clubs, to provide dances and picnics. Club activities include a Big Buck Contest, intramural football, softball, and basketball teams. Fund raising activities include t-shirts, hats, and wood donated by local companies.

Our faculty advisors deserve our thanks and gratitude for their support and advice. We had a great time this year and are looking forward to next year.

LOUISIANA STATE

For LSU, this year has been quite a challenge. Our annual fall "Smoker" was a big success in introducing new students to the faculty of the school. Our Christmas tree sale also was a huge success. We earned nearly $3500.00 for the club to be used mostly for financing our trip to conclave. The "mini-conclave", held about two months before the major Conclave, helped to determine our participants for this year's events. We also sponsored a join SAF free campaign to recruit new members for the club and SAF. It was a big success, and fifteen new members were added to our roster. That's about all from Cajun Country. Good luck, and we'll see ya'll next year at Mississippi State.

LOUISIANA TECH

The Louisiana Tech Forestry Club has had a great year. We have worked hard to prepare ourselves for this years Conclave. To raise the funds, we had a gun raffle and sold Christmas trees. Also to prepare ourselves, we had our own mini-conclave field day to detertmine the best participants for each event.

Also this year, we had a welcoming dinner for freshman and new members. Our biggest get together so far was our Annual Christmas Banquet. Yet to come is our end of the year Crawfish Boil. We also will compete in the Winnfield and will join all the Life Sciences students at Life Sciences Day.

The club members had a chance to learn about the Forestry Profession from several guest speakers that spoke to speak at our Forestry Club Meetings. The club is still growing with good participation from freshman and sophomores along with upper classmen. Club spirit has been shown in our participation in intramural football and softball.

MISSISSIPPI STATE

The MSU Bulldogs would like to thank Clemson for a great time this year! We had a busy year with the Mid-South Forestry Equipment Show, firewood sales, and our Fall and Spring Field Days. Mississippi State is looking forward to hosting the 33rd Annual ASFC Conclave next year. We hope to do as good a job as Clemson! See you next year in Bulldog Country!

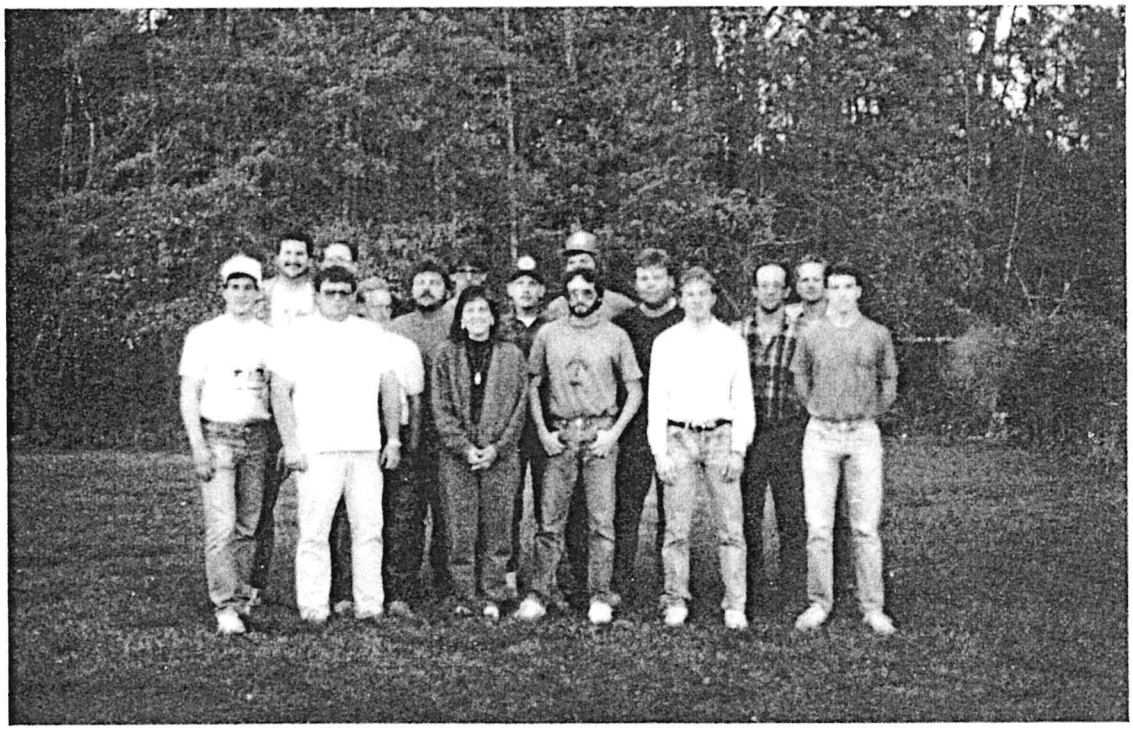

N. C. STATE

N. C. State's Forestry Club has been active in many areas this year, including public service events, competitions, and informative/entertaining events. Our year started off with our usual tree jobs to raise money to attend Conclave. This semester will end with our annual Logger's Brawl which tries to involve all the students in the College of Forest Resources. We had a wonderful time at this year's Conclave and hope to see you all next year in Mississippi. Thanks Clemson for a great Conclave!

OKLAHOMA STATE

The Forestry Club at Oklahoma State University has worked hard for the past year to prepare for this Conclave. Our fund raising activities included working with the athletic department at football games and selling firewood. We had an exciting year with various guest speakers from the environmental field.

STEPHEN F. AUSTIN

The Stephen F. Austin State University Sylvan Club was proud to be a part of the 32nd Conclave at Clemson. Every year we look forward to participating in all the events. Conclave is a lot of work and a lot of fun for everyone involved.

To earn money for Conclave, our members participate in tree service work projects around Nacogdoches, Texas. Our school run offs for representation at Conclave were held April 4, 1989.

The Sylvan Club participates in many events each semester including Lumberjack Day, Pineland Day, Groveton Day, and Texas Forest Festival. Our club is responsible for a float in the Homecoming Day parade. We work hard and play hard.

We would like to wish every club a successful coming year and also give special thanks to our advisors, Dr. Michael Fountain, Dr. Ken Watterson, and Dr. McGrath, for all of their help throughout the year.

Thanks, Clemson, for a great Conclave and best of luck to Mississippi State in the coming year as they plan the 33rd Conclave. We'll be looking forward to seeing all of you Foresters again at the 1990 Conclave.

TEXAS A&M

The 1988-89 Texas Aggie Foresters have been hard at work since the last time we met. We had our annual spring football game, where unfortunately the grad-faculty team beat the undergrads.

In the fall, we held the annual smoker to welcome new members and to renew old acquaintances. at Christmas, we sold Christmas trees for our major fund raising project, along with having ample tree jobs to help out with the funds.In addition to all of this, we formed our own student chapter of the Society of American foresters. we also held bi-weekly club meetings throughout the year and invited a few guest lecturers to speakmto us about informative forestry related topics.

We held our skidadoo in March and boy was it cold! The diehard Aggie Foresters were still in full force, and the competitors were selected for this year's Conclave.

Now we are here at Clemson to get down to some serious competition and to have a good time.

VIRGINIA TECH

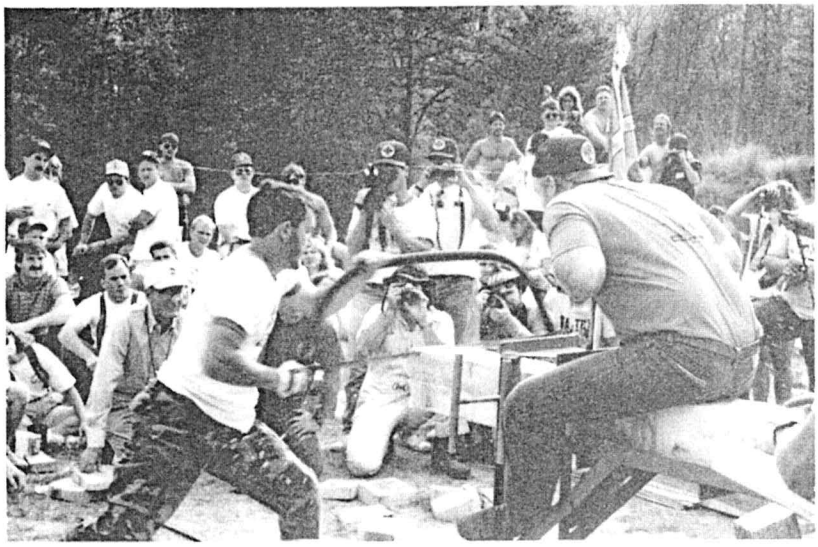

The VPI Forestry Club had a successful fundraising year with firewood and an outstanding Christmas tree sale. Competitively, we've had a rebuilding year discovering new talent in the club. A special thanks to all the alumni and coops who supported us at Conclave this year. Thanks for a great Conclave Clemson, and good luck to Mississippi State. we're looking forward to next year.
