Letter from the AAMU Forestry Club President:

Greetings from former Alabama A&M University Forestry Club President,

On behalf of Alabama A&M University and the entire planning committee, it was an honor to host the 2025 Southern Forestry Conclave. We were fortunate enough to host 12 universities, industry professionals, and sponsors from across the region for this amazing event. Planning for this event was not easy, but to witness how we all came together and overcame many challenges, it was worth it.

To the faculty and staff of AAMU, thank you! Without your support and guidance, we would not have been able to do half the things we did. The success of this year's Conclave was only possible because of the collective effort of each one of you and especially to Mrs. Penny Stone, who does so much for our program and our success. I want to extend my sincere gratitude to the volunteers, faculty judges, sponsors, alumni, industry partners, and food vendors who invested their time, resources, and expertise.

Your commitment ensured a well-organized, competitive, and memorable experience for every participant. Special shoutout to Cole Hutchison and the University of Florida forestry club for showing up days early to help with a lot of our last minute prep, we are so appreciative for you all.

To our student competitors, thank you for showing up and bringing the energy to every event no matter the outcome. You all represent the future of forestry and the next generation of professionals so well, I'm thankful to every one of you.

Lastly, to my VP Chris Burns and every Bulldog on "The Hill", you all showed up in every way possible, and I cannot thank you enough. I'm confident enough to say this was my favorite conclave to be part of. You all truly embodied what our motto "Service is sovereignty" stands for. Those words guided every aspect of our planning and execution of this year's Conclave!

Sincerely,

Bradley Massey
AAMU Forestry Club President 2022-2025

Letter from the AAMU Faculty Advisor:

Looking back one year after a wonderful conclave in Alabama, I am filled with gratitude for all the participants, forestry club advisors, AAMU staff and administrators, sponsors, and many other partners who worked tirelessly behind the scenes. This was our second time hosting the Forestry Conclave since joining the Association of Southern Forestry Clubs. We benefited greatly from the experience gained during our first time hosting the event on our campus in 2009, and we were also blessed with much better weather.

I would especially like to thank two AAMU students, now graduates of our forestry program, who were instrumental to the success of the conclave: Bradley Massey and Chris Burns. Both are now employed in forestry in Alabama, and we truly miss their hard work and dedication. Of course, students are at the heart of the conclave, and I was proud to see our students rise to the occasion and make the event a success.

My colleagues, Drs. Bowman and Stone, stepped forward to help lead the effort and deserve my sincere appreciation. Mr. Jeremy Whigham, affectionately known as the "chainsaw man," was another invaluable colleague. He helped prepare the campground, process wood, erect the poles, and willingly tackled any task we asked of him. His commitment to supporting our students alongside some of the finest forestry students in the region has strengthened our ongoing pursuit of excellence.

Our Department Chair, Dr. Wubishet Tadesse, and our Dean, Dr. Lloyd Walker, graciously granted us permission to host the competition at our Agribition Center, which greatly simplified logistics. The staff at our Winfred Thomas Agricultural Research Station were also essential in setting up several events, using their farm equipment. Many colleagues, partners, alumni, and friends generously donated their time, resources, and financial support. Sponsors such as Weyerhaeuser, Tennessee Valley Authority, and Thompson Appalachian Hardwoods contributed financially and provided special assistance. They are listed at the end of this report with the reminder that the last are certainly not least.

Several long-time forestry club advisors have played key roles in strengthening the Southern Forestry Conclave over the years. Sadly, we learned of the passing of Dr. David Buckley a few months after last year's conclave. For more than 25 years, he advised the University of Tennessee Forestry Club and was a trusted colleague who consistently sought the very best for his students. We honored his memory in this annual conclave report following the photos of student participants.

Congratulations to the champion of our conclave, Stephen F. Austin State University, and best wishes to the University of Arkansas at Monticello as they prepare to host the 2026 Conclave in their neck of the woods. May the skies be sunnier for you than they were in Monticello in 2010.

Our conclave was a great success thanks to the outstanding students who participated and made the event truly memorable. May all who attended the 66th Annual Southern Forestry Conclave carry with them lifelong memories that enrich their forestry careers.

In Memoriam:
Dr. David Buckley

Dendrology professor Dr. David Buckley served as the faculty advisor for the University of Tennessee's Forestry Club-Student Chapter of the Society of American Foresters for more than 20 years, which was a great passion of his. Dave mentored hundreds of Rocky Top students, served the Boy Scouts of America, and fathered a son, Morgan, his pride and joy. About the many conclave stopwatches that would randomly start beeping in his office, he would say, "It was a reminder to stop and do some work on the forestry conclave". He will be missed by many and remembered as a forester who trained future foresters to conserve and protect the many goods from the woods.
